spot Ive compared to my Abuelas cooking is one you wont want to miss! 31 Best Restaurants in Las Vegas Mexican | $$ | Website | Google Maps | (702) 333-1112 Famous tableside guacamole and a Cadillac Margarita El Dorado Cantina is my favorite Mexican restaurant in Las Vegas. The atmosphere is vibrant and fun with music playing and beautiful decor all around. There are three different Las Vegas locations and they are all open 24 hours daily, so if you want to grab a late-night bite, this is a great place to do so. On Thursday nights at the Tivoli Village location, they have Latin Night with live music, dancing, and special cocktails. The carne asada street tacos and the grilled steak fajita platter are my go-to orders. I also always order the tableside guacamole because they adapt it to your taste, and it is always fun to watch your food being made. They also offer a great margarita selection my favorite being the Cadillac Margarita. American | $$ | Website | Google Maps | (702) 445-6100 Monkey bread, chicken sandwiches, and delicious like the fresh pastry basket, famous french toast, and the croque madame topped with ham and brie. When dining in for dinner, the beef wellington, short rib, and mac and cheese are exquisite. End your meal with a chocolate macaron with an airy hazelnut mousse in the middle and topped with fresh hot fudge. Its like nothing youve ever had before International | $$$$ | Website | Google Maps | (702) 761-7610 From fantastic food to unique drinks and impeccable service, Bazaar Meat at the Sahara Las Vegas is exceptional in every way. The ambiance is elegant with dim lighting and light music playing in the background. The Ultimate Tasting Menu includes a variety of their most popular foods like cotton candy foie gras and Japanese wagyu beef. The tasting menu is around $275 a person, but you can also choose your own items if preferred. Though quite expensive, to eat at one of the best Las Vegas restaurants is so worth the price. American | $$$ | Website | Google Maps | (702) 698-7940 Holsteins Donutella Bam-Boozled Milkshake Inside The Cosmopolitan, one of the best places to stay in Las Vegas, youll find Holsteins, home to the citys tastiest burgers. Aside from the great burger selection, they offer glamorous boozy milkshakes like the Donutella Milkshake. You can also make these milkshakes virgin and even then, theyre just as delicious. Instead of bread, they start the meal off by giving you warm and delicious popcorn. The firecracker meatballs and the Billionaire Burger made with foie gras are just a few of their unique menu items. The atmosphere is vibrant and fun with cool art on the walls. If youre looking for a dining experience like no other, head to Holsteins, one of the best restaurants in Las Vegas. Italian | $$ |

Website | Google Maps | (702) 385-0838 The award-winning Cal Italia pizza is topped with prosciutto, sweet fig, and a balsamic reduction Just up the road on Fremont Street, youll discover Pizza Rock. This authentic restaurant serves truly divine pizza. The ambiance is casual and upbeat, perfect for an evening or weekend outing. The Cal Italia and the Napoletana-style Margherita have won awards. The meatballs and stromboli are also savory and delicious. Come for a laid-back vibe and to experience one of the best restaurants in Las Vegas. New American | $$$ | Website | Google Maps | (702) 737-0707 When you first walk into Beauty & Essex at The Cosmopolitan, you may think you are entering a pawn shop, but that just part of the allure. Before dining, take a pause if anything in the pawn shop catches your eye, note that all items are available for purchase! Once you enter this speakeasy-like restaurant, a secret door is opened to the actual eatery. With hung chandeliers, dim lighting, and great music, this restaurant makes for the perfect place to eat on a night out. Most Beauty & Essex dishes are smaller, sharable portions. The grilled cheese, smoked bacon, and tomato soup dumplings are a fan favorite, as well as the 10 oz. steak with mac and cheese. The Chandelier Bar in The Cosmopolitan, one of the best Las Vegas bars, is a great place to get drinks after your meal!
Colombian | $ | Website | Google Maps | (702) 463-7111 Iced matcha latte with pandebono and a variety of savory empanadas Set in Chinatown, Take it Easy is a Colombian bakery and local hidden gem. If you have never tried Colombian pastries before, you are in for a treat. The shop itself is very tiny with a small bar area to sit at, but they have an adorable outdoor area which makes for a picture-perfect Las Vegas date idea. Some of my favorite menu items are the chicken tinga empanadas, guava and cheese empanadas, and pandebono, a Colombian cheesy bread. They also have a variety of vegan options and a unique drink selection. American | $$ | Website | Google Maps | (702) 640-0640 Snow crab legs with cajun fries, a potato, and corn Pier 88 is one of the most delicious seafood boil eateries that I have tried, and they have multiple Las Vegas restaurants. They offer a huge seafood selection and allow you to pick the types of butter and seasonings you prefer. To get the biggest plate for the best deal, opt for their variety of food combos. I like to order the boiling half a pound with my selection of seafood (usually crab), which also comes with potatoes and corn. Started by a nutrition coach, Foodie Fit is a healthy meal prep and delivery company that makes it easy to stay healthy and still get your macros. Each of their meals has all the macros listed on it, making it easy to keep track of your goals. On top of that, most of their meals have a lean vs. a bulk option that you can choose between depending on your goals. Best of all, they rotate through different recipes, so youre not stuck eating the same meal repeatedly. If youre visiting Las Vegas, this is an excellent option since they deliver all over town, including the strip! You can still indulge in some meals and use Foodie Fit meals to stay balanced. Weve been trying different ones, but our favorites are the Mongolian Beef with Roasted Veggies and Thai Basil Turkey so far.
